Robert Sternberg: He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

The stronger a relationship is, the more attached those people will be.

According to the different combinations of love, different types of relationships are created.

People can feel intimacy, passion, and commitment with God.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.

Robert Sternberg:

He proposed the Triangular Theory of Love in 1896 and believed that there are three different components that influence love.